RULES FIGHT TO BREAK IN HOUSE SESSION TODAY

Joint Committee Report Unsatisfactory to Both Democratic and Republican Insurgent Faculties

MANY AMENDMENTS

Main Goal Is to Have Petitions to Discharge Committees — Bear 150 Names—Pub- lic Tax Hearings

Washington, Jan. 12.—The rules fight in the house, forced by the Republican insurgents as a condition to the reelection of Speaker Gillett, will break tomorrow. It will center on the report of the rules committee, which is unsatisfactory to both the insurgents and the Democrats.

The main points at issue are the recommendation of the committee that petitions for the discharge of committees from the consideration of legislation must bear 150 signatures and its refusal to repeal the Underwood rule which restricts amendment from the floor to tariff and revenue bills.

Amendments to the rules will be offered by both the Democrats and the insurgents. The Democrats will propose repeal of the Underwood rule and a minimum for signatures on petitions seeking the discharge of committees below the figure fixed by the rules committee. The insurgents plan to support both these moves, and offer a number of additional rule amendments.

Having completed its consideration of the administrative features of the Mellon tax bill, the house ways and means committee will begin public hearings tomorrow on the treasury secretary's recommendations for tax reduction. Some Republican leaders, including Representative Longworth, the party leader, and Chairman Greene of the committee, are of the opinion that the Mellon bill must be modified if it is to command a majority in the house, while others, among them members of the committee, have announced they are open to any compromise.

World Reprint News Service Times.

Although some of the witnesses who will appear before the committee during the week will discuss the bill generally, others will take up individual sections. Repeal of the excise taxes on automobiles and accessories, jewelry, stock sales, theatre admissions, and the other so-called renaissance taxes will be urged by representatives of industries affected.

Representative Watson, Pennsylvania, Republican member of the ways and means committee, endorsed the Mellon bill in a formal statement issued tonight. He estimated that the enactment of the measure would result in a saving of more than $2,000,000 in income tax payments by the residents of Pennsylvania alone.

With a member of their party elected as chairman of the senate Interstate Commerce commission over Senator Cummins, Republican, Iowa, Democrat leaders said today they would not press at this time for the election of a president pro tem, the office now held by Mr. Cummins. With this prospective fight out of the way, the senate will be able to proceed with its business in the regular course. As yet it has received no important legislation from any of its committees.

Many Other Subjects Pending.

Music schools and Russian recognition will be the most important subjects to come before the committee of congress during the week. On Tuesday the house military committee will begin consideration of the War and other bills for the government's ultra project on the Tennessee river.

The senate foreign relations subcommittee to which has been referred the Borah resolution proposing a declaration in favor of recognition of the Soviet government will probably be called together tomorrow by Chairman Borah, with a view to beginning public hearings Tuesday.

House and senate committees will continue their consideration of farm bill measures. The house agriculture committee will hold further hearings on the Burress bill, proposed government loans to enable wheat growers of the northwest to enter the dairy and livestock business. The senate agriculture committee will go forward with its hearings on a similar measure by Senator Norbeck, Republican, South Dakota, and the Kerr-Schafer bill which would provide for a government corporation to buy and sell farm products.

WORLD LUNGS BLACK WITH SMOKE

Washington, Jan. 12.—Stuart Hickey, a man of 15 bodies in the world, was hit his rate with death across the continent from Moscow, Cal., to Brooklyn, where he died about a New York Central train at 8 a.m. yesterday. Hickey had been informed by physicians that he had but two days to live and was attempting to reach his home.

SARTEL BURKIN BORN

Burke, Jan. 12.—Stuart Burkman, a Democratic state committeeman from Dutchess county and former mayor of that city, died suddenly last night in his home here. Mr. Burkman was widely known throughout New York state as a road committee man. He was born in and came to this country when he was six.

Mason of Almond were instantly killed this noon when an automobile driven by Stubbs was struck by Eric passenger train No. 1, two miles west of Wellsville. Witnesses said that Stubbs was trying to beat the train to the crossing in the blinding snow storm and failed to estimate the speed of the train.

SEE CHANCE TO END REPARATION TANGLE

First of Expert Committee's Meetings to Solve Germany's Finances Today

(By the Associated Press)

Paris, Jan. 12.—The experts committee invited by the reparation commission to investigate German resources with the object of finding a means to balance the German budget and stabilize Germany's currency will meet here at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning and an optimistic feeling prevails in official French, allied and associated reparation circles that this meeting will open up a new era of the long drawn out reparation problem.

The first gathering will be presided over by Louis Barthou, who will welcome the American, British, French, Italian and Belgian delegates. The representatives of these countries assemble in the realization that the situation has reached the extreme limit of procrastination and stubborn adherence to each country's national viewpoint and that a way must be found out of the muddle without great delay in a spirit of conciliation and mutual concessions.

America's participation, which Washington has designated as strictly unofficial, is regarded here on all sides as America's reentrance into European affairs, and hopes have been kindled in official and diplomatic circles and, to a greater extent among the general public, that a settlement must be reached now or never.

BIGGEST BATTLE OF REVOLT EXPECTED

Joliette Frost Known to Be Scene of Important Battle, It Is Believed

The boxer had partially recovered from an operation and surgeons believed he had a fighting chance to live but complications set in and his death came suddenly. He is survived by his wife and mother, who lived with him in the Bronx.

The dead boxer was one of the leading bantam weightlets in the country and was a favorite among New York fans, who knew him as the "Brooklyn Bruiser." He had fought a large number of bouts both here and throughout the country and was regarded as a dangerous contender for the title held by Joe Lynch.

His bout with Taylor, which was held in Madison Square Garden, was arranged to help him in his advance toward meeting with the title holder. The Terre Haute boxer turned out to be one of the most aggressive and hardest hitting men for his weight that had exhibited in that boxing ring in a long time and severely pounded his opponent from the opening until he knocked him out in the 12th and last round.

Fight Despite Death.

Albany, Jan. 12.—The death of a fighter in the boxing ring in 1917 resulted in the suspension throughout New York state for three years of officially recognized bouts. During the winter of 1917 Toddy Hicks of Albany struck Young McDonald, also of Albany, a right over the heart. McDonald dropped, was carried from the ring and was found to be dead. The bout was one of the preliminaries on a full card and the promoters discontinued the program despite McDonald's death.

Governor Charles S. Whitman, disgusted by the procedure, called for a repeal of the Malone boxing law, which was accomplished. Boxing then as far as official recognition was concerned, ceased until 1926, when the legislature passed the Walker boxing law, under which bouts now are conducted.

CONVICTS END MUTINY AT HOME; PUNISHMENT UNFIXED

Mexico City, Jan. 12.—The occupying federal forces of the town of Tehuacan, state of Puebla, was officially confirmed today. Horsemen under General Eugenio Martinez entered the town at 7 o'clock Saturday evening without firing a shot. The rebels hurriedly withdrew toward Esperanza.

SKI EXHIBITIONS AS ADVERTISED

But a Bit of Snow for Small One and Landing, However—

Heavily Slush

Brainerd Manor, Jan. 12.—There was a skill jumping exhibition by members of the American Olympic team and others at Brainerd Lodge today, as advertised, but it was not altogether what might be called leading over snow, though there was some of that to be seen.

Some of the 5,000 who paid $2.50 each to sit within eyeshot, admitted openly that they came not so much to see the skill jumping as to realize man conquering the elements. What they saw was man covering the naked earth with a patch of snow for a landing and another for a landing place.

What was left of the 15,000 cubic yards of snow imported from Tasmania in the Adirondacks at a cost of $6,000, had been spread on the jump of side early in the morning, although the imported snow a tendency to melt made the course rather sketchy. It was the most costly snow on which the skill jumpers ever performed. It was also the first and largest ever held in Worcester county. Skiers from as far as from the surrounding hills flocked to see the exhibition.

Refusal of Promoters to Cancel Scrap After Death in 1917 Causes Law Repeal

New York, Jan. 12.—Frank Doherty, known in the boxing ring as Frankie Jerome, died tonight in Bellevue hospital from a compound fracture of the skull, believed to have been suffered in his bout last Friday night, with Bud Taylor, of Terre Haute, Ind., in which Jerome received a terrible facie.

The boxer had partially recovered from an operation and surgeons believed he had a fighting chance to live but complications set in and his death came suddenly. He is survived by his wife and mother, who lived with him in the Bronx.

The dead boxer was one of the leading bantam weightlets in the country and was a favorite among New York fans, who knew him as the "Brooklyn Bruiser." CONCERTED EFFORT TO ALTER DRY LAW

Labor, Law and Capital Join Hands in Effort to Have Volstead Act Changed

(By the Associated Press)

New York, Jan. 12.—Labor, law, and capital have joined in a nationwide concerted effort for the modification of the Volstead act, it was announced to night by Austin G. Fox, chairman of the board of the Moderation league.

The American Federation of Labor, the Constitutional Liberty league, the Association against the Prohibition Amendment, and the Moderation league have combined their forces for the campaign, he said. The legislative committee of the combined organizations will ask for hearings before the resolutions committees of both the Republican and Democratic national conventions to urge their request for a national expression on the subject.

The legislative committee members are James Duncan, chairman, first vice-president of the American Federation of Labor; Mr. Fox, representing the Moderation league, Colonel Julian Codman, Boston attorney, treasurer of the Constitutional Liberty league; W. H. Stayton, president of the Baltimore Steamship company and head of the Association against the Prohibition Amendment; and James O'Connell and Albert J. Steigler, both of the American Federation of Labor.

Plans now under way call for united effort on the part of the combined forces, not only in legislative campaign, but in crystallizing the sentiment of the voters. At its recent convention, the American Federation of Labor passed resolutions calling for beer and light wines. This organization now will keep its branches constantly informed of all actions pending or in prospect toward this end and the votes of individual congressmen on the subject. Districts throughout the country are to be organized and public pressure brought to bear by constituents, according to Mr. Fox.

ENRIGHT'S ACT BRINGS ACTION

312 Arrests Made in Series of Raids on Places Where Drinks Are Sold

He and Companions Attempting to Prevent Robbery—Assault and Believed Dying

New York, Jan. 12.—Police Commissioner Enright's drastic shakeup of the police for alleged failure of high officials to enforce the prohibition law, brought immediate results last night and today when a total of 312 arrests were made in a series of raids on cabarets, saloons, dance halls, and speak easies.

More than one-third were taken into custody in the vicinity of Greenwich Village. Only six of these prisoners, five of them women, were held, however. Most of the prisoners taken in raids in other parts of the city were likewise dismissed in magistrate's court.

The overshadowing concern of the day was the shooting to death of Police Detective John A. Schneider, who tried to prevent bandits from holding up a restaurant in E. 78th street. One of the bandits was wounded and later captured. He is believed to be dying. Four other men were arrested.

Schneider and Detective Ertola were passing the restaurant when they heard the burglar alarm ring. Three men were running from the restaurant as the detectives reached the door. One of the bandits, James Donovan, fired and Schneider dropped dead.

DETECTIVE KILLED

Fall to Understand Warning.

Polf Hoff and his wife were missionaries of the Swedish branch of the Lutheran church in the United States.

The first details of the raid on the town and mission of Tsoo Yang were received here January 8. On January 11, the man in which Mr. and Mrs. Hoff were shot at was learned.

After the mission was invaded, three missionaries were warned against trying to escape. The Hoff, however, not knowing the Chinese dialect which the bandits spoke, attempted to run away and both were shot down. But Mrs. Kilian, a veteran missionary, who understands the bandit's tongue, overheard them plan to take Mrs. Hoff with them. Mrs. Kilian promptly sacrificed herself, persuading the brigands to take her instead of having the wounded woman.

URGES USING ENEMY MONEY IN INDUSTRY

Custodian Miller Says More Would Revive Business and Provide Fund

New York, Jan. 12.—Creation of a federal agency to utilize the enemy funds on deposit in the treasury to the credit of the alien property custodian was proposed in the annual report of Colonel Thomas W. Miller, the custodian, made public today.

Colonel Miller suggested that two ends would be served by returning the funds to active enterprise—revitalization of business and commercial relations with the former enemy countries, and the reaping of profit by the federal corporation which could be, if desired, applied to settlement of claims which later might be adjudicated by the mixed claims commission.

"There is approximately $18,000,000 of cash on deposit in the United States treasury to the credit of the alien property custodian which sum will increase as the liquidation policy is carried out," Colonel Miller said.

"It is suggested that a plan be considered whereby that portion of the remaining alien property represented by cash in the treasury may be utilized in reviving trade and the commercial relations which formerly existed between this country and the former enemy powers."

Washington, Jan. 12.—Democratic leaders here to choose a convention city and to discuss other business matters at the national committee meeting Tuesday found themselves tonight in a mass of political discord, centering around the choice of a presidential nominee.

Friends of William G. McAdoo were especially active and provided a demonstration for the party chieftain before the meeting is over. Supporters of Senator Underwood, Alabama, were present to prevent his nomination, and others with interests of favorite sons and potential dark horses to guard lost their chance to bring forward their nominees have been mentioned.

He is a rare combination of intellect and heart; he is a splendid executive, as shown by the success of the university under his management; and he is a moderate both in speech and in manner. He is dry and perceptive and sound on economic questions; his popularity will grow as he becomes known."

The New York delegation, which will present the name of Governor Alfred E. Smith, will arrive tomorrow. The selection of the convention city promises to be hotly contested, with New York, Chicago, and St. Louis regarded as the leaders. San Francisco, Atlanta, and Louisville are also expected to submit invitations.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Democratic leaders here to choose a convention city and to discuss other business matters at the national committee meeting Tuesday found themselves tonight in a mass of political discord, centering around the choice of a presidential nominee.

NEWSPAPER CLIPPINGSIs It League Propaganda?

The opinion is prevalent at Washington that the widely-advertised peace-winning plan selected by the jury of award from the many thousands submitted in response to Mr. Bob's offer of $100,000 for the most practical method of securing world peace, is simply propaganda for the League of Nations.

This view is sustained by United States senators and members of the house of representatives who have expressed themselves on the subject, and they do not hesitate to say that the referendum proposed in connection with the proposition is but a transparent attempt to have the American people reconsider a project which they emphatically rejected in the presidential election of 1932.

A dispatch from the national capital says that when President Coolidge's opinion was sought this week on the Beck peace plan he caused it to be distinctly understood that he had fully covered the subject in his address, at the opening of congress, when he said that so far as his administration was concerned, the League of Nations was "a closed incident."—(Scranton Republican).

The Mexican Revolution.

No decisive battle can be expected immediately, as President Obregon cannot afford to attack until he is in superior strength at strategic points of contact. Both Sanchez and Estrada command forces that numerically are not to be despised. A defeat not decisive would cost them little prestige. But President Obregon would be damaged in reputation if he were to meet with a reversal on the road to Vera Cruz or in Jalisco.—(New York Times).

Finding Real Wild Life.

This is getting to be a fad world in its wild places. The head-hunters of Lamou are selling souvenir postal cards and are learning to play croquet. The cannibals of the Solomon Islands are drinking tea and playing the mandolin. Up in the polar north the Eskimos are listening to the radio and taking boxes of gumdrops to their sweethearts. If one would see wild life it is necessary to make a trip to one of the studios.—(Los Angeles Times).

$5,000 and Up for an Egg.

Curators of those museums of unnatural history, the cold-storage warehouses, must have writhed with envy when they read that announcement that the Museum of Natural History proposes to sell at auction one egg guaranteed to have been in storage for 10,000,000 years. And instead of a measly nickel or dime for an egg the auction is to start with an upset price of $5,000.—(New York World).

The Shipping Purple.

President Coolidge is plainly tackling the shipping problem with the same courage and the same whole-some demand for realities that he has applied to other questions. The Shipping Board was never fitted to handle a great fleet, whether to operate it, loan it or dispose of it. Here was plainly a business task, calling for one-man executive action.—(New York Tribune).

GOVERNOR SMITH ASKEDTO PROBE LABOR DEPT.

Albany, Jan. 13.—An investigation of the State Department of Labor has been requested of Governor Smith by Associated Industries, an organization of manufacturers and merchants, according to a letter received by the governor today. The organization, which claims a membership of 2,000, investment in the state of more than two billion dollars, and employment of over half a million persons, charges inefficiency and extravagance in the management of the labor department.

Assumption of unwarranted powers by the industrial board is listed among the eight charges made against the department. Other reasons given for the request include poor administration of the workmen's compensation act; delays in making awards; intrusion of politics into the department and consequent interference with fulfillment of its functions; decrease in number of cases of compensation handled in proportion to increase in referees; poor administration of the state fund; and unwarranted increase in the expense ratio of the fund.

THE GUIDE POST—BY HENRY VANDYKE*WHAT A CHILD COSTS

You were bought with a price.—I Cor. 6:20.

The inward joy and power of our life, in every sphere, come from the discovery that its highest obligation rests at last upon the law of gratitude.

In every tie that binds us we are made free and glad to serve when we recognize that we have been "bought with a price."

Here is the family circle:

You belong to it.

It has its obligations and responsibilities for you.

You are subject to your parents. They have a right to control you and to demand your obedience.

So far, you are subject to a law, good and necessary, but in itself external and formal.

Presently you come to feel, if you are worth anything at all, that this family life has cost something; you catch a glimpse of the range of anguish, the contention, and continual drudgery of life and love that a mother bears for your sake.

You think of the care and self-sacrifice through which father has passed, that you might be protected and nurtured and educated.

You begin to understand that expenditures of the very best of life have been made for you.

And when that truth comes to you it lifts you up into the true ideal relationship—makes you long to be more worthy of the sacrifices which have been made for you.

If they could ever be repaid, they would be a burden until you had discharged the debt.

But best because it is so great that it transcends payment. It makes you a willing debtor forever, and bonds you to a grateful and loving life.

HOLSTEINS GREAT PRODUCERS

Yearly Yield to Each Cow Over 50,000 Pounds of Butter.

(By the Associated Press.)

Chicago, Jan. 12.—The total yearly production of the leading Holstein cow in each of 47 states is 41,659 pounds butterfat, equivalent to 52,111 pounds of butter, according to the advanced register records of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America, recently announced. This production is sufficient to supply each family with one pound of butter in cities the size of Rochester, New York and Portland, Oregon.

The average production of each cow is 1,169 pounds of butter in one year, which is more than the yearly butter yield of five average dairy cows in the United States, the records show. However, it is explained, the production is but 1.3 times that of the average of the 16,394 pure bred Holstein cows which have completed yearly records under supervision of the national breed association.

Former Pastor of Chapin Memorial Church Now in City.

Rev. Dr. George E. Huntley, pastor of the Universalist National Sunday school association, preached a powerful sermon at the church last evening on the "American Boy." Dr. Huntley forcibly brought out the fact that the boy of today is the man of tomorrow and unless he receives in his youth the proper amount of religious instruction he will have a lack of moral background in later years. The Sunday school is the place where this instruction must be given, he said.

Dr. Huntley will hold a Sunday school conference at the church at 7 o'clock this evening and at 8 o'clock will give an address which the public is urged to hear. Dr. Huntley is the guest while in the city of Dr. and Mrs. P. I. Bugbee.

Oneonta Society Annual Dinner Held At Waldorf Astoria Hotel

Hon. David F. Wilber and Health Commissioner Frank J. Monaghan Principal Speakers with Nearly 100 Loyalty Sons of City in Attendance—Fealty to Home Town Sentiment Expressed by All.

"After 20 years spent abroad at attractive places in all corners of the globe, I declare to you here tonight that it was the happiest moment of my life when I recently returned to Oneonta to spend the remainder of my days there, and I again looked into the faces of friends loyal to the core and I repeat what I have often said when far away, that Oneonta is not only the best town but its people are the best and most loyal to their fellow and their home town." So spoke former Consul General David F. Wilber to nearly 100 former and present Oneontians in attendance at the annual dinner of the Oneonta Society of New York and Vicinity held at the Waldorf-Astoria on Saturday evening. Fealty to the old home town seemed to be the watchword of the gathering and it was fitting that the keynote speech should be given by one who deserved to rank chief among its many loyal sons. Mr. Wilber was given a royal reception by the members of the society, the man, who, after winning success away from home and being elected to congress, started for the old home town to receive the plaudits of his old friends and who, on arriving late at night was greeted in a rather indifferent manner by the driver of the hotel bus. On the way from the station the man engaged the driver in conversation and after asking other questions, inquired if the folks there had heard of the honor that had been his and receiving, "Oh, yes, they have heard of it," as an answer, then quipped, "Well, what are they saying about it?" was given this reply, "Nothing, they're just laughing."

After other pleasantries at the expense of certain guests, Dr. Monaghan declared that he is doing his best to maintain the pace in the office of commissioners set by his very capable predecessor and then gave a brief recapitulation of some of the responsibilities and accomplishments of which the public hears but little through the public prints, especially emphasizing

Oneonta Society Annual Dinner
Held At Waldorf Astoria Hotel

D. FRANK D. BLODGETT, Newly Chosen President.

(Concluded from page five)

At dinner itself, Toastmaster Talmadge announced that owing to the consideration accorded John W. Frese, a popular member of the society, who conducts the Waldorf-Astoria drug store, Oscar, the famous chef, who has made the cuisine of the hotel world famous, gave his personal attention to the preparation and serving of the following most delectable menu:

Cold Spring Harbor Oysters
Cream of Celery with Toasties
Celeri Salted Almonds Oliver
Medallion of Sea Bass, Bonnefemme
Potatoes, chateau
Crown of Sweetbreads, Virginian
Green Peas, Saute in Butter
Quab Chicken, Roasted in Casserole
Waldorf Salad, Mayonnaise
Nestlebrode Pudding
Assorted Cakes
Coffee
The Business Session.
Before being seated and after all the guests had arrived a short business session of the society was held in the parlors. Reports of officers were read showing the society to be prosperous and thriving and then the following officers named by the nominating committee were elected:

President—Frank D. Blodgett.
Vice presidents—Fred W. Wakerley, Earl H. Annibal, John F. Mann, Charles H. Woodhall, Secretary—Henry E. Tobey.

Treasurer—Clarence Swift.

Directors—Malcolm Baxter, William H. Champion, Walter Gardner, John F. Hayes, Carlton A. Ford, William Lawson, Morris A. Lunn, Thomas J. Mooney, C. Frank Pattengill, William C. Paul, Leon D. Reynolds, William W. Sawyer, Edward M. Vosburg, Sherman M. Fairchild.

After the dinner another short business session was held at which Mr. Talmadge suggested that some one supply the secretary with a sketch telling of present activities of each member for a Who's Who of the society to be published in the Daily Star, that any member knowing of the sickness of an associate notify the secretary who in turn should inform other members residing near that cheer and comfort be given in behalf of the society, that a directory of the society be issued and that all members patronize and foster the business prosperity of each and all in every possible manner and that in some way a sinking fund be established to meet current expenses incident to the maintenance of the society, possibly by the creation of sustaining or contributing members who might gladly subscribe more than the statd annual dues.

Various members were heard, upon their suggestions, after which they were referred to the board of directors for such recommendations to the society as they might deem wise and best for the future of the organization.

C. G. Swift and others referred frequently to the work during the year of Walter E. Mullock and a committee consisting of Luman Fisher, George L. Miller, and Charles H. Woodhall to draft a suitable tribute to Mullock.

The episode of the demise of the late A. Stanley Morris, who had attained a great deal of fame in the past and was well remembered with the kindred of friends,

Hon. David D. Wilber, Dr. Frank D. Lawson, Dr. J. E. French and other members of the society be acknowledged here.

The dinner over with a fitting song, there were many who tarried for a longer visit with friends whom they had not seen perchance since the last annual dinner and that was the ultimate result that it was the unique and significant that among the guests of the annual dinners held since the society was formed, none tarried in any essential feature that of January 12, 1923.

WOMEN TO PUSH LEGISLATION

New York League of Women Voters to Meet in Utica to Decide Upon Strategic Measures.

(By the Associated Press)

Albany, Jan. 12.—Legislation representing women's interests to be planned in the present session of the legislature will be decided upon next week at the fourth annual convention of the New York State League of Women Voters, to be held at Utica, January 14 and 15. The women's juryore bill, minimum wage and forty-eight hour week for women and minors, practical prohibition enforcement, the application of the direct primary to all statewide offices, are among the issues on which the convention is expected to call to have enacted in the present session of the legislature.

Work for the year 1924 to be carried on by the members of the state League will also include further extension of compulsory school throughout the state. Perhaps the most distinctive feature of the League's program for this year is the attempt which women members will make to get out the vote in the presidential election. "Getting out the vote in 1924" will be emphasized in the league convention. Each Assembly District leader will receive data giving the total voting strength of her district and the number of voters who voted in 1920. Seventy-five per cent of the voting strength of each district is the goal set for women voters to get out to the polls this fall, as compared to forty-nine per cent, the average vote in 1920.

Mrs. F. Louis Slade, chairman of the New York League of Women Voters, will preside at the Utica convention. Mrs. Caspar Whitney, first chairman of the organization, is chairman of the convention program committee.

A meeting of the state committee of the League will be held in the afternoon of January 14, followed by a dinner at the Utica Civic club, where Mrs. Mary Paddon, associate director of the Foreign Language Service, and Miss Emily Hickman, of Wells college, will speak.

Tuesday morning the convention will be opened by Mrs. Leslie Tompkins with a report on the by-laws of the New York League of Women Voters. After a discussion and the vote on changes to be made in the by-laws, the report of the election committee will be given. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will report on the Bok Peace Award, and Mrs. Helen M. Leavitt upon the publications of the organization.

Mrs. F. Louis Slade will open the afternoon session Tuesday with a report on the work of the last year and the program for the coming year. Reports of standing committees will include that of Mrs. Irene Osgood Andrews, on legislation; Mrs. V. Evert Macy, government efficiency; Mrs. Frank Petrel, citizenship training; Mrs. James Lee Ladlow, welfare; Mrs. Henry Goddard Leach, international cooperation. Primaries will be held from 5 until 7:30 p. m.

A mass meeting Tuesday evening will feature Dr. Charles Bernstein of the Rome State school, speaking on "The State's Wards and the Fifty Million Dollar Bond Issue," and Mr. J. Henry Scattergood on "Europe's
